CIOFF® 40th Anniversary Celebrations took place during CIOFF® World Congress and General Assembly in Papeete, Tahiti. The Honorary President and Founder of CIOFF® Henri Coursaget, Honorary Members of CIOFF® Kari BERGROLM from Finland, Guy LANDRY from Canada and Bruno RAVNIKAR from Slovenia and over 150 participants from 37 countries of the World gathered in the tranquil settings of French Polynesia to celebrate this milestone Anniversary of CIOFF® and reflect on CIOFF® achievements over the 40 years.

CIOFF® Tahiti, with the support of the High Commissioner of the Republic in French Polynesia, of the Government of French Polynesia, of the Ministry of Culture and Arts, the Ministry of Tourism, the Ministry of Youth and Sports, and with the support of the municipalities (Communes) surrounding the town of Papeete created a fantastic memorable experience for all the guests, which will stay with us forever.
Dear friends,
When we created CIOFF®, August 8th, 1970, we were a team of pioneers. We didn’t have any money, but we wanted to work together and build a better world, because we truly believed in it at that moment. And I have asked everyone who came to affiliate with CIOFF®, to join us in it at that moment. And I have exiged that, when someone came to join us for adhering to CIOFF®, he would have to work and not for money, but for working together, all of us. There might be problems, but we have to solve them with kindness, with our hearts and not with our finances. Don’t you ever forget that! It is very essential. If not, CIOFF® would miss the chance to find a new, a younger generation, a new soul of youth, a new breath in the future right here in Tahiti, and become a trivial organisation without any interest.

So, please, play your cards of brotherhood, simplicity and humility. Thank you very much.
May I first, express my profound gratitude to National Section of CIOFF® Tahiti, Tahitian Authorities and Organizing Committee for hosting this 40th CIOFF® World Congress in this beautiful Island of Tahiti. My deep sincere apologize for not being able to attend this remarkable CIOFF® Congress, due to my health problem and sudden hospitalization caused by the momentous influenza-flu. This is my first absence from the CIOFF® World Congress since I have been joining for more than 26 years with CIOFF®.

After Havana Congress, there have been many phenomena both positive and negative happening in the world. One of negative impacts is the strong and devastating earthquake in Haiti which cost a lot of lives followed by outbreak of Cholera which the people of Haiti are facing now. The other national disasters which have been taking place recently in Asia-Oceania area such as massive floods in Pakistan, China, Chinese Taipei, Vietnam, the Philippines and Thailand, as well as the latest earthquake under the sea near island of Mentawai and eruption of Mount Marapi in Indonesia. These phenomena cost a lot of lives. I have sent letters of sympathy and condolence to those affected countries on behalf of CIOFF®.

The rescuing of 33 trapped miners from the San Jose Mine in northern part of Chile was successfully and safely accomplished through the close cooperation among those concerned, namely rescue teams, and especially the Chilean Government after 69 days of their ordeal in mine. It is found that they tried their best to survive through their capabilities in dealing and coping with the problems they were facing. With respect to the impacts of Folklore, it can be said that the rescuing is the case in point for application of “Traditional and Modern Technology” together to solve the problem. During the ordeal in the mine for 69 days, spiritual practice was observed. Therefore I would like to draw attention of this 40th CIOFF® World Congress how traditional and modern technology can be applied and integrated for promotion of peaceful coexistence of all the peoples in the world regardless race, religions and cultures.

Ladies and Gentlemen, the people of the World today are facing a multitude of national disasters due to the meteorological changes (as I had mentioned on my opening speech for 39th CIOFF® World Congress in Cuba) There is great need for CIOFF® delegates from all nations and religions to meet together here in Tahiti to discuss and exchange the ideas of ways and means of achieving lasting peace and happiness of the World Society.

Let us all re-dedicate ourselves to the lofty ideals and principles enshrined in CIOFF® and let us all work together for the achievement of fruitful cooperation for the benefit of peace and prosperity of all Nations.

May I also, take this opportunity to convey my best wish to all of you for continued success in your deliberations and have a pleasant stay in the Paradise Island of Tahiti.

I Miss you all and wish you all the best,
Celebrating CIOFF® 40th anniversary, it is fit to quote a line written by an Israeli poet: "We still wonder why slowly slowly time goes by so fast". Birthdays are like any other day, except for the fact that we call them birthdays. On our birthdays we rejoice for what we achieved and feel sad about what we didn't achieve; assess and evaluate our achievements and failures; redefine challenges and reformulate objectives and plans. Birthdays provide the illusion that we control time and that time has some purpose and some meaning; yet, birthdays are important, because they provide the opportunity to remember and thank the founding-fathers, the pioneers on whose shoulders we stand. At the 40th CIOFF® General Assembly in Tahiti, like in every assembly, I mentioned and paid tribute to the memory of Shmuel Bialik, the founder of CIOFF® Israel and one of the first to join CIOFF®, after the organization was founded.

Shmuel served as the president of CIOFF® Israel for more than 35 years; he initiated and led the first "Folkloriada" and was one of the beloved leaders of CIOFF®. Shmuel was also one of the leading people in the fields of culture, youth, and sport in Israel. He initiated and pushed forward many cultural events, projects, festivals, and institutions etc. which continue to live and influence the cultural life in Israel.

Shmuel was chosen as a "Distinguished Citizen of Haifa" for his contribution to the city and for initiating and leading the Haifa International Folklore Festival". He was sent to help the newly established African nations in the 60s and 70s, and guide them in creating and organizing, cultural ceremonies, events and festivals.

We in Israel will continue to cherish Shmuel Bialik’s vision to preserve the cultural heritage of the diversities of cultures we have in Israel; we will continue to believe that: "people who don’t preserve their past endanger their future" and that" everybody has equal right to be different". These values enable the development of a society based on “harmony of differences”.

We hope that Shmuel Bialik’s ideas and vision will continue to inspire CIOFF® in Israel and in the world.

Dan Ronen, CIOFF® Israel
Who was Joseph “Sjef” Hendriks?
Sjef Hendriks was an “eager young professional” at the municipality of Brunssum when World War II started. Just like his father, he was known for his integrity and willingness to help others. During the war, the German occupants imposed the distribution of identity cards and tickets for people to buy food through Dutch municipalities. Sjef was in charge of this in Brunssum, when a Jewish shopkeeper asked him to help his family by giving them a new identity. This was the first time Sjef forged a passport, which eventually led to more “illegal” activities and culminated in Sjef’s position as temporary chairman of the L.O. (organisation similar to Dutch resistance). As an officer of the municipality, he brought people “back from the dead”.

He was engaged to a smart and intelligent young woman called Leny de Rooij, who became his trustee. When his activities for the resistance forced Sjef to go into hiding, she became his courier, passing messages from the resistance all the way to Amsterdam. Leny would later become his wife and the mother of his six children. She continued to actively support him when Sjef commenced his work in the world of folklore.

How Sjef’s passion for folklore was ignited.
After the war, Sjef’s career is on a roll and he is soon a leading man in his beloved Brunssum. He continues to contribute to the community and is involved in the founding of many social and cultural foundations, such as Red Cross, the VVV (tourist office), promotion of Arts, etc.

During the war, Sjef learned to cooperate with people of all classes, cultures, religions and political stances. He sets his lifelong goal to unite ordinary people from around the globe to create mutual understanding through Folklore and Arts.

How Joseph met the other founding fathers.
This remains a question even for his own children, but it probably went something like this: in the late fifties, when the journey Brunssum – Nice was quite an undertaking (most people did not own a car, planes were exotic), Sjef travelled the route to visit a folklore parade. One of his daughters stood alongside of him in the crowd at Place Massenet, when her dad said: “Stay here, I will be back for you!”, and disappeared into the crowd to make contacts. After this, his network expanded rapidly. His name ‘Joseph’, became his international alias because it was easier to remember than ‘Sjef’. In the late sixties, he was constantly in contact with a certain Henri from France, Siegfried and Fanny from Belgium, Philippe from England...

In the early seventies, Henri Coursaget, Siegfried Verbeelen, Fanny Thibout, Philippe Conroy, Michal Kosinski, Maria Sampirelayo, Bruno Ravnikar, Eiji Yamasaki, Marie–Rose Engels became close family friends to the Hendriks. Mutual visits happened on a regular basis. Festivals like Billingham, Confolens, Zakopano, Fribourg sounded all very familiar... the existence of CIOFF® was a reality.

Next to his organisational skills, Joseph possessed a disarming charm that he used to found CIOFF® Netherlands together with Rikus Draijer. This also helped him to gain local support of people of Brunssum and international support of his CIOFF® friends (later joined by Jerzy Kosinski, Jean Roche,...) in making the International Folklore Festival Parade Brunssum a world-class festival. The first CIOFF® World Folkloriade in 1996 was held in Brunssum. Many friends from CIOFF® gathered at the stadium that was named after him - Joseph Hendriks Stadium.

Joseph would have been proud of all the people who gathered at the 40th CIOFF® World Congress in Tahiti, and their contribution to this cause.

«It was crucial for CIOFF® to maintain as much as possible contacts with UNESCO. I think we succeeded although many things could be improved in the future. Here are some objectives for our future work:

1. To keep the current CIOFF® status in UNESCO (to attend all interesting meetings of UNESCO, to develop better the relations with different UNESCO sectors, more personal contacts..)
2. To improve the CIOFF® - UNESCO relations in the field of cultural cooperation, especially in Intangible Cultural Heritage. The accreditation will give us more possibility in 2011 and we must be ready to play our role.
3. To improve our National Sections and to improve the cooperation with UNESCO National Commissions on the national level.
4. To place the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage Convention at the heart of CIOFF® future work on national level too.
5. To find new partners for new Intangible Cultural Heritage projects
6. To improve CIOFF® visibility in UNESCO in general.

CIOFF is today celebrating its 40th Anniversary - enough to be proud of many positive and successful events in the past but also enough to look for new strategies, where the cultural heritage of each CIOFF® member and of the whole World will be more visible and more respected.»

The agreement on 4th CIOFF® World Folkloriada between CIOFF®, CIOFF® Korea National Section and Hwang Eun Seong, Mayor of Anseong & Chairman of The Folkloriada Organizing Committee was signed during 40th CIOFF® World Congress and General Assembly 2010, in presence of all the delegates.

Due to the massive floods in Anseong in August 2010, the organisers of Folkloriada together with CIOFF® Folkloriada Working group had to revise the dates of Folkloriada 2012. The new dates of the 4th CIOFF® World Folkloriada are 1st to 14th October 2012.

Anseong city has an abundance of natural beauty with breathtaking mountains and reservoirs. It also has a bounty of rich cultural assets including temples and folk relics. Anseong city, located in the southern part of South Korea, 80km away from Seoul, is quickly developing into an impressive tourist attraction site. It takes 1 hour from Seoul and 2 hours from Incheon International Airport by car to arrive in Anseong City. It is a great place to visit with many things to do from experiencing the beauties of nature to dining on delicious food.

The CIOFF® Korea and 2012 CIOFF® World Folkloriada in Anseong Organizing Committee would like to invite folklore groups from all the National Sections to 4th CIOFF® World Folkloriada 2012, City of Anseong, Republic of Korea from October 1st to 14th, 2012.

On the sad side the events of the year - unfortunately, but not differently from the rest of our world – all the members had to cope with severe cuts in the budgets for their festivals and activities, and this forced the majority of them to lower the size of their presentations and some of them were even forced to cancel some events. Despite that, the Sector members are active and strongly determined to continue their commitment to folklore and traditional arts.

On the happy side of the events, the South European & African Sector this year saw the renewed presence of the Greece National Section among its members.

Moreover, the Associate member CIOFF® Bosnia Herzegovina eventually succeeded in completing the tiresome procedure of getting all the necessary official documents and recognition in order to achieve the full member status inside CIOFF® and the Sector. A proposal about “Meeting Regulations” has been prepared by the officers and distributed at the Sector meeting held in Papeete; it will be discussed and voted at the next spring meeting in 2011.

Contacts with associations and organizations from various African countries continued over the year and, at the moment, contacts are maintained with associations in 11 African countries; hopefully, some of them will eventually succeed in organizing their CIOFF® National Sections. The Sector activities will continue, through the year 2011, according to the guidelines of the Sector “Plan of Action at short and medium term”.

The next spring meeting, in 2011 will be held in France.

TRADITIONAL CULTURE-LINK IN THE INTEGRATION OF THE REGION

CIOFF® Bosnia Herzegovina, led by its President Anka Raič, organized the International Conference on „TRADITIONAL CULTURE-LINK IN THE INTEGRATION OF THE REGION“, which took place in Mostar from 7th to 10th October 2010. The participants were members of CIOFF®, teachers of folklore, ethnographers and choreographers from Albania, Montenegro, Croatia, Hungary, FYR Macedonia, Italy, Slovenia and Bosnia and Herzegovina. The aim of the Congress was to identify and discuss the risks involved, despite all the benefits it brings, in the process of globalization, especially the threat of losing people’s identity. Positive and negative experiences in the area of preserving intangible heritage, its impact, the contribution of tourism to popularization of folklore and the risk of „performing folklore“ becoming a new, unified theatrical folk expression for tourism were discussed.

- We identified the risk of losing the elements of the intangible heritage;
- The connection between the tangible and intangible, cultural and natural heritage is so strong that in most cases it is impossible to achieve success in the implementation process for protection of the material without the protection of intangible heritage and vice versa;
- We need to build a system for preserving the material, natural and intangible heritage at the national level, so that the processes of preservation, re-creating value and management of these values with equal respect, will include - from planning through to implementation and control - local communities, associations, institutions, researchers and practitioners;
- This system involves the use of cultural heritage as an element of community development and welfare; the proceeds from it must be returned to the local community and re-invested into this continuous cycle;
- States, and nations that share the political space, must strictly take into account the national independence and unity of its identity, regardless of the current state borders; therefore, states must cooperate in the implementation of these processes, in particular with neighboring countries.
- The implementation process should include the following steps:
  - Identifying and recording elements of heritage;
  - Encouraging local communities to preserve these elements, in particular through:
    - Involvement of scientists and experts in describing the elements and determining their value;
    - Encouragement of the promotion of „cultural heritage as a good“ and its inclusion in educational and development plans;
    - Construction of the system at the national level for sustainable and durable recovery of these processes, control inventory and manage these resources.

CIOFF® Bosnia Herzegovina first joined CIOFF® as Associate Member in 2002 and eight years later CIOFF® Bosnia Herzegovina became Full Member of CIOFF® at the 40th CIOFF® World Congress in Papeete, Tahiti in November 2010. CIOFF® Bosnia Herzegovina represents two International Festivals, recognized as CIOFF® Festivals “Mowing days in Kupeš”, “Folklore festival in Sarajevo”, also „InterFolkFest“ Derventa and five smaller International Festivals, several National Folklore Festivals and numerous folklore groups. In addition to organizing folklore meetings and festivals, we would like to mention some of the activities that contribute to achieving the objectives of CIOFF® and that take place in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Children’s folklore: For several years already we strive to restore the original role of children on the folklore scene through a set of children’s games for the folklore groups whose members are children and to organize separate meetings of children’s folklore groups. Parallel with this process, actions for data collecting on traditional children's games and dances, transcription and revitalization of these games are conducted. The number of children's folklore groups in B&H is growing rapidly and the folklore becomes popular as an extracurricular activity.

Traditional crafts: Traditional crafts and skills of engraving, woodcarving and filigree, making of special fabrics and jewellery are well preserved in Bosnia and Herzegovina. The folklore scene is dependent on part of these crafts due to the reconstruction of costumes and traditional instruments. We launched several programs for the preservation of traditional crafts. The implementation of the project for preservation of woodcut in Konjic with the support of MDGF F Culture for Development program is currently in progress.

Traditional arts: Recognizing the lasting artistic value of traditional visual arts, realizing that this art direction is not given due attention and realizing that the women are mostly deserving for existence and transfer of this skill, as parents and educators and that for them in today's society, especially in the Balkans, it is harder to reach the audience, with the aim of preserving traditional visual arts, we launched the “International women's visual art colony for traditional arts – Bila” in 2009. This year, in September 2010, 35 female artists from 7 countries participated in 2nd Colony in Bila with their works that represent 9 different directions in visual art: naive art, straw painting, ebru painting, calligraphy, icon painting, raku and horezu ceramics, golden embroidery and Bosnian embroidery. Support to this year’s colony was ensured by University of Birmingham, Faculty of Visual Arts (UK), and Fine Arts Faculty from Kayseri (Turkey). The project aims to encourage preservation of the traditional art expressions, to make a collection of works and critics through the permanent exhibition and colony’s catalogues and to make them available to public by the permanent exhibition in “ArtMit” gallery in Bila near Livno.

As this project meets the aims of the UNESCO 2005 Convention on the Protection and Promotion of the Diversity of Cultural Expressions, we applied for and expect the support of UNESCO.

CIOFF® TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO

We are pleased to welcome the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago as a Full Member of the North American Sector and the CIOFF® family.

CIOFF® has added, to its already extensive cultural diversity, a culture that has been influenced by immigrants from many countries including India. The Caribbean Basin is known for its exotic music, dances, the visual arts and special events that distinguish each country from the other. Trinidad and Tobago is known among other things for its National Carnival. It starts in February and continues until March 8th. The Carnival attracts a huge following of local as well as international visitors.

Prior to that event the Christmas Season is celebrated throughout the month of December, according to Dr. Vijay Ram-lal Rai, President of the Chutney Foundation of Trinidad and Tobago, with folk songs of Parang Soca, Chutney music, dance and traditional folk instruments such as: Box base; Shack Shack; Quarto; Marack and Mandoline.

We look forward to learning more about Trinidad and Tobago from Dr. Vijay Ramlal Rai when he joins our ranks and perhaps introduces his many festivals and performing groups to our members via international festival participation and Folkloriada.

The North American Sector is looking forward to its meeting in Canada in the Spring of 2011 when Dr. Rai will be present.

To celebrate the 25th anniversary of Folklore Canada International (FCI), the show Spectacle Montréal International FCI was presented on October 23, 2010 under the theme “Twenty-five years of dissemination and rapprochement of Cultures”. The show featured eight dance and music groups of intangible cultural heritage from Quebec & Ontario who take part in international folkloric festivals. This exceptional event organized in a most appropriate setting was intended to improve understanding among the numerous human components who create the diversity of Montréal’s, Quebec’s and Canada’s cultural fabric.

Since 1986, FCI has been committed to the promotion and understanding amongst culture. For 25 years, Folklore Canada International has been offering a voice to all those who express themselves through traditional cultures. The cultures of Canada are numerous: American Indian, French, English, in addition to those of the different people who came to enrich the Canadian cultural mosaic. By putting together activities, events and services, FCI brings together traditional art performers, stakeholders, associations, groups and artists of traditional art. These stakeholders participate in research, education, understanding, conservation, dissemination and development of intangible cultural heritage.

For 25 years, FCI has delegated abroad more than 200 Canadian folkloric groups to participate in international festivals. These performances were presented to more than 8 million spectators in different countries of the world. On the other hand, Canadian international festivals have welcomed more than 450 folkloric groups from abroad that were seen by more than 7 million Canadians. Through FCI’s network, activities linked to intangible cultural heritage were held in eight provinces of Canada.

With their successful results, these programmes show that FCI and its partners have brilliantly accomplished their mandate. Many thanks to all members who have worked throughout these last 25 years to the dissemination of intangible cultural heritage. By your commitment, intangible cultural heritage has been transmitted to the Canadian Society as a whole. Let’s all celebrate 25 years of rapprochement of cultures and expressions of cultural Diversity!

Billingham Festival receives endorsement from English Heritage Fund

The Legacy of Billingham Festival project receives the go ahead from Heritage Lottery Fund. We are delighted to announce that in early September we received a confirmation of a generous grant of £49,500 from the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) towards our project “The Legacy of Billingham Festival”. This grant will enable us to collect the memories of those who have organised, volunteered and performed here over the years.

Over the next four years, from now until 2014, in preparation for the festival’s 50th Anniversary these historic memoirs, together with all the videos, photos, brochures and festival programmes will be built into a huge and permanent computer archive (Virtual Festival Museum) making it accessible to all.

Head of the Heritage Lottery Fund in the North East, Ivor Crowther said: “The Heritage Lottery Fund is delighted to support this project that will tell the story of the Billingham International Folklore Festival and remember the people that have been involved with it. Over the last 50 years, the festival has become hugely popular with local people and visitors alike and it is important that their memories are preserved for generations to come. Not only will the history of this wonderful event be remembered and shared with new audiences, through the creation of a new website and online archive, it will also create a range of volunteering and learning opportunities for the local community.”

To create the virtual museum we need your help! Everyone who has ever been to or performed at the Billingham Festival, has their own memories which we’d like you to share with us. To do so, you can write to us at info@billinghamfestival.co.uk
Please get in touch, we are waiting to hear from you!

- workshops on how to build national youth commissions;
- teaching children games;
- two lectures - the first one presented by the CIOFF® Vice President Alcides Hugo Ifran on the Globalization and Cultural Identities
- the second one presented by the Prof. José Feliciano de Amorim Filho about the Education and Development.

The last day of the Forum was dedicated to games and was called “Games Day”. It was a pilot project in preparation for the World Folkloriada in 2012 in South Korea. During this activity over 400 children from 55 schools of Caruaru shared their traditional games with the youth participants of the Forum.

It was a great opportunity for young people coming from all over the world to get to know each other and have a chance to experience their cultures and appreciate the differences and similarities.

CIOFF® ANNOUNCEMENT

CIOFF® FOLKLORIADA DVD SET

The CIOFF® World Folkloriada is one of the main events of the International Council of Folklore Festival and Traditional Arts Organization. The first Folkloriada was held in 1996 in the Netherlands, the second in Japan during the summer of 2000 and the third Folkloriada took place in Hungary in summer 2004. Similar to the Olympic games, the Folkloriada is a Worldwide cultural event, the aim of which is to promote friendship, sharing, respect, harmony and communication between peoples. For 10 days, folklore groups and CIOFF® members from over 70 countries who are united in their dedication to preserve their cultural heritage through music, dance, fine arts, crafts, games and traditions, meet to present their own culture and exchange with the others.

Susanne Kramer of CIOFF® Luxembarg has produced, based on all the available video footage, 2 DVDs covering three Folkloriadas in Holland, Japan and Hungary. Those DVDs have been presented and distributed to all the National Sections present at CIOFF® World Congress in Tahiti. From spectacular Opening Ceremony at the Joseph Hendriks Stadium in Brunssum, Holland in 1996 to magnificent Closing Ceremony in Budapest, Hungary in 2004 the Folkloriada DVD set is a powerful tool in promoting the activities and image of CIOFF® Worldwide.
